2.6.3.3.2 Extended Tenure-Track Period

In special circumstances, such as an event that severely impedes a Faculty member’s ability to perform his/her professional duties for a period of time (including an illness to a Faculty member or a member of his/her family, or primary care given to a newborn or newly adopted child), the TTP may be extended by an authorized leave of absence. However, such an extension can occur only once during the TTP and can last no more than one year. Thus, the maximum duration of the TTP is eight years, during which time a decision must be reached to either award tenure or terminate the appointment.

In order to receive an extension of the TTP through an authorized leave of absence, a Faculty member must submit a written request to the Department P&T Committee in a timely fashion, explaining the reason(s) for the request in detail. The Department P&T Committee reviews the request and makes a recommendation to the Dean. The Dean forwards the Faculty member’s request and the Department P&T Committee’s recommendation, along with the Dean’s own recommendation, to the Provost, who either authorizes or denies the extension.

If a request for an extension of the TTP is made during the Third Year Review, no extension will be granted unless the review results in reappointment. A request for an extension of the TTP cannot be made after the start of the period of tenure eligibility (see section 2.6.3.5).

Application for a leave of absence for personal reasons, or election to use the University’s Active-Service Modified-Duties Policy to care for a newborn or newly adopted child (see section 2.14), does not obligate an untenured Faculty member to apply for an extension of the TTP, nor does it replace the requirement for a formal, written request, should the Faculty member desire a TTP extension.