

NJIT

STANDARD 2

PLANNING, RESOURCE ALLOCATION, INSTITUTIONAL RENEWAL

In its planning processes, NJIT

- Aligns resource allocation with near-term strategic objectives and long-term goals
- Manages change effectively
- Assures maintenance of institutional quality

At NJIT, resource allocation

- Incorporates a continuous dynamic process leading to periodic assessment and systematic change
- Aligns near-term strategic objectives and long term goals

At NJIT, institutional renewal is achieved by

- Using the results of strategic planning processes
- Utilizing comprehensive reporting to recalibrate and refine the university's vision, strategies, and tactics
- Viewing internal and external factors as challenges to be met

Strategies for the Future

- NJIT will strengthen interrelationships among institutional, operational, and unit-level planning management to ensure these are effectively aligned with Strategic Plan, 2010-2015.
